

Environmental Indicators

Environmental indicators are being used in some aspect of environmental management by 71% (36 agencies) of the responding agencies, most frequently in environmental status and trends reporting. Of the agencies performing environmental status and trends reporting, 86% (31 agencies) stated that indicators are in use for that activity. According to respondents, indicators are in use in 83% (19 agencies) of the environmental goals projects, 56% (10 agencies) of the state comparative risk projects, 56% (18 agencies) of the strategic planning programs, 29% (12 agencies) of place-based or ecosystem management projects and 32% (6 agencies) of sustainable development projects.

Respondents Using Environmental Indicators

